DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This $3\frac{1}{2}$ story midblock Second Empire rowhouse of running bond brick has been extensively altered. The first floor is a shopfront which consists of a large central window (of 2 panes) flanked by wood doors both with a single large glass panel. The front is recessed slightly from the wall surface under a fascia, which in turn is capped by a plain cornice.

The 2 large second floor windows have thin concrete sills and a single brick lintel. Each window consists of a single large pane of glass flanked by a pair of angled panes (forming a recessed bay window) capped by 3 four paned transoms.

The 3rd floor retains the three original 2-over-4 windows with stone sills and splayed brick lintels. A handsome bracketed cornice with an attached string course ornaments the bottom edge of the slate mansard roof. Three fully arched dormers, each with a rounded headed 2-over-2 window light the attic. A narrow cornice with small plain brackets crowns the roof.
